On the cause of All Wars

The Wilson administration's war on Russian Bolshevism -

A CIVIL WAR (nc) Will the USA always involve itself in other people's wars.
Yes, I think yes, as long as . . .

George Washington warn against this almost Freudian erotic attachment to ongoing foreign wars and also starting them. Most recently with Ukraine, toppling an existing legal government (its president legitimately elected by the Ukrainian people) and constantly plunging into other people's business. Why so?

Always ask the WHY and just as important ask WHO IS DOING WHAT TO WHOM.

The Why?

This might bewilder some of the younger crowd who read this commentary on Why War. But those of you are still at the age of virility and Peak Experience (Peak Experience in the sense of Abraham Maslow's description: that for which the accomplished man always strives to, ie.,

The Peak Experience - which when it comes - drives the MaWo'man into a Nirvana sort of thing, theoretically. This is the MaWo'man (to cojoin the man and the woman rather than repetitiously use the, "and the man, and the woman, and the neither {the bland so to speak).

Those who are old enough to remember Vietman are going to be, in most cases but not all, beyond the macho virility stage for the man, mankind in general (but certainly not for the Chinese or Indians (Asians only, no exceptions {otherwise where is the proof?} - viz, videre licet, yes, it is permitted to see [<https://www.google.com/url?sa=t&source=web&rct=j&opi=89978449&url=https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Viz.&ved=2ahUKEwi57KO91K-GAxUEtokEHRW1DLUQFnoECCoQAw&usg=AOvVaw3tG0vfbMjtiaNgz8kKUWRi>] . . .

. . . and how to put it poliely, for the woman, the older ones, that are less than the a la mode woman we fancy in our best dreams how . .

[<https://dictionary.cambridge.org/us/dictionary/french-english/a-la-mode>] . . a woman ought to be, " the way thing ought to be " LINK HERE - the dikes on bikes aspect,|blame Rush Limbaugh, and he's dead| . . is absent, according to the German psychoanalyst --> Seagram Freud, of the peak experience caused by excitation - that it to say, this absence of an excitable induced peak experience is absent in the geriatric crowd.

I don't think we can challenge the inestimable qualifications of Seagram Freud upon which the very foundations of psychiatry and modernized psychology lie, or is it lay.

Shall we be more direct and get to the root cause of war! I honor Sherlock Holmes, British thou he be. Sherlock Holmes could deduce the death of a thousand, nay ten thousand dead caused by a single prick of RICIN.

<https://www.google.com/url?sa=t&source=web&rct=j&opi=89978449&url=https://emergency.cdc.gov/agent/ricin/qa.asp&ved=2ahUKEwixmLn36-GAxX6AHkGHVlyCAUQFnoECBsQAw&usq=AOvVaw07sJLJA5jwDqditFN6ZgBv>

Just as a ricin induced death may be caused by a single penetration into the body by a prick, whether by the tip of an umbrella or tip of an ICMB getting off in a cosmic shaking blast - the end is the same, DEAD ON CONTACT.

DRIFTING TO A THEME.

This is year 2024 Anno Domini Μετα Χριστου (gk) После Христа Posle Khrista{ru}

What is the common denominator of all those urging, threatening, and facilitating war on a very large scale. Which will kill billions of human beings. Which, if it comes about, and I believe that forces in the EU and United States, etc.want this war very much.

Because, and again my thanks to Seagram Freud, these flame throwing war mongers - the common denominator --> they are all old fossils, old foggies, impotent both mentally and physically. Inner rage, zero excitation capability - negative sublimation, drives them. (a herr Dr. Freudian term, sublimation)

War is the only stimulus that will get them up and into a fighting mood. Get their jollies so to speak. [Do you see any of them showing the slightest bid of remorse or even a tinge of sadness for what they have done to Ukraine? How can that be? They are, in Freudian and Herr Dr. (MD) Richard von Krafft-Ebing medical terms --> psychopaths. That is a person who is devoid of any conscience [as in, Let Conscience Be Your Guide. Not for them folks] or empathy or sympathy. These traits, qualities, such as mercy, are absent in them. The are devoid of the feelings we normally expect of people. But these types are the Ted Bundies of the world.

The young have more suitable objects for their attentions and intentions. Profit and big money is a factor - for sure. General Jan Smuts, yes a Brit, and full of pluck and bravery and a fighter in World War I and WW_II and not around now to see it all happen again in a new War to End All Wars by destroying Russia and China - and take a swipe at North Korea too, mind you.

https://www.google.com/url?sa=t&source=web&rct=j&opi=89978449&url=https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jan_Smuts&ved=2ahUKEwiHr-GM56-GAxXsrokEHV39As8QFnoECACQAQ&usg=AOvVaw0rBOnhNb037oMzLM5Y1XXZ

Who have the MOST to lose in this coming war to end it all for Russia, China, North Koreans - and you too who will survive the initial barrages.? These will be the young people, especially children and those of fighting age. It will be the NEXT GENERATION. And for them it will be THE FUTURE THAT NEVER COMES.

It is now past 3am. 2024_May_28, now one day past memorial day. I wonder if anyone there in the National Cemeteries - stirring in their grave in protest? Did I hear yesterday President Biden, lament (means to feel or express sorrow or REGRET for ... does he regret anything other than Donald Trump, the former president of USA is coming after him, Pres. Biden, politically --> the 600,000 deaths and near one million total deaths and casualties (a latest legitimate estimate according to Colonel Douglas Macgregor, a decorated war hero.)

Should I cry about what is going to happen or what has happened already to many hundreds of thousands, nay, is it now past a million?

I forgot how to cry 68 years ago. Age 10. Just once I did - 26 years ago. I thought my wife was going to die of the cancer. Praise the Lord she did survive it. And I thank the doctors too. She and I - we've lived our life. Most of our life has been pretty good too. My wife's oldest brother Westly died some ten years ago - direct result of the lingering effects of Vietnam.

I had me seven uncles. Six were executed for being Partisans under Marshal Tito, executed by the German SS for being partisans. All Serbians fighting the NAZI were considered partisans, and thus under Herr Hitler's order, executed upon capture. The youngest, Nenad, survived. My mother's mother, was killed by the NAZI soldiers. She told me one day on a visit to her apartment in Greenwich Village (NYC) how most all of her professors from Belgrade University were captured and then driven to a high mountain (Serbia is very mountainous, you know) to a cliff and forced over this cliff to their deaths. What a way to go if you got to die. But that was 83 years ago. Now all that happened is just another statistic, loathsome though it be.

For Biden or his controllers if he is not the person who is actually condoning and facilitating what is happening in Ukraine and the Gaza (a real horror of horrors - that will never be forgotten by the children who do survive today. And I got me this feeling that they will grow up with hate in their heart - 'cause they've been robbed of both their parents and their childhood. But why philosophize over them? They too will be statistics soon enough.

As children grow up - I think people who get to know them some, the children of the slaughtered innocent, will say, ". . they seem so NUMB to FEELINGS, human feelings, like they can't feel. What's wrong with them?" It;s like sometimes those same people will also say in diagnosis of what they can't understand, "Something seems wrong with them, . . like they got a problem, they seem emotionally disturbed."

Reminds me of time (8 --> 12) when I was living in Manhattan and thereabouts, - lots of people from all over the world live there. I'd over-hear talk sometimes when I was visiting one of the many museums,

"The Russians seem so stiff, so numb, don't seem to want to be friendly, they like to keep their distance you know. Don't know if I can trust them, Gertrude, you know."

They were numb alright. All of them. Near every Russian (that included Ukrainian which is 90%+ Russian - odd isn't it when you think about it)... had a family member or frequently all of their familiy - die in this war, World War II(which Russian's call, "The Great Patriotic War" because everyone fought, to the death when necessary and many times it was --> to the death. See the Russian movie, Ivan's Childhood and you will come to understand why, for the Russians, WHEN PUSH COMES TO SHOVE - the NATO hanger-ons (reed def. of this American idiom:

<https://www.google.com/url?sa=t&source=web&rct=j&opi=89978449&url=https://dictionary.cambridge.org/us/dictionary/english/hanger-on&ved=2ahUKEwjZxK2x-K-GAxXTrokEHWM3AxYQFnoECBYQAw&usg=AOvVaw1Fpa5ikEwhfBgG7NrLyWP3>

I don't think much about the estimated five million Vietnamese (on both sides of this American made war)- that's more an abstraction, one of those lothsome statistic, you know. I do think of the 58,00, estimate of GIs, mostly in the 17 thru 24 age range (young you know) who died, were killed in that war to free the South Vietnamese from the horrors of the Communist. So they told us young men back in those days. I did have a few friends who came back in low bid government coffins. But mostly that 58,000 seems today more of another one of them losome statistics.

I guess thats the way it's going to be how the world will end soon - if this new war keeps on going, has its way, in a whimper, not a bang after the dead are burried and time once again forgets what happened and its left remembered only in the history books.

I've seen this same numbness on the Internet . . . (you will never see the truth on main stream media in USA). . . in a plea for help, for food and stuff. The kid seemed he was about 14 year old boy - neighborhood was all shattered with debris - just like Berlin when the war finally ended. I am sorry to say this but I could sense from him that there was an inner resolve that one day he was going to get even with those responsible for the mass killing of so many of his friends, parents, and neighbors. I remember what my mother told me about Hitler's decree, "For every German soldier killed by these Partisans 100 Serbians are to be shot!" Serbia lost 25% of its men in that war.

Same Hitler decree went out to France - whose "underground fighters were wrecking havoc on Germany's ability to fight the allies in France. One hundred French citizens, age, sex, etc, didn't matter, kill them all, for every German soldier who dies as a result of these French underground fighters.

The French government should know better what will happen to the French people and nation and French history of two thousand years if they continue this irrational alliance with these promoters of war with Russia, and now it will also be with China and toss in North Korea too, . . . the militarists in the USA - who really think they can "manage" a real war, with their fancyfull Decision Trees, Powerpoint presentations HIGH BID super high technology (complex systems always fail early in a war. , but low quality,high maintenance and highly trained repair technicians,(will they die inconveniently during battle? then where are you going to find your MUST BE highly trained repair crews? NATO and their masters in W.D.C. you had better study quick the story of the Russian T-34 tank, and The Battle of Kursk.

And if Commander in Chief Biden has any sense left he ought to reactivate Colonel Douglas Macgregor, make him a Lt. General, even Brevet if necessary, and I think he will accept - he is all military and duty, honor and country; and ask him how the hell you get out of the mess your handlers have put you in to - A NO WIN SITUATION - and W. Europe and the USA into before all hell breaks.

Call it a re-assessment, Revision 1 and have HIM fly to Moscow and Peking and give him plenary power to negotiate a mutual agreed upon framework to begin honest negotiations. And I would include North Korea because if you do this - you will definitely beat Trump to the Draw and I honestly think you will WIN the Second Term.

Consider this - that if YOU put an end to this Military-Industrial Complex driven madness of 25% true GDP allocation of the nations income - and re-allocate significant portions to what are DEMOCRATIC PARTY IDEALS - THE PARTY OF FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT - you can be the president who pulls us out of a looming greater depression; clean up the gettos, make them decent and safe places for the children to get a good, damn good education - motivate teachers with the average starting pay of lawyers but contingent on their effectiveness at getting good results and academic achievements; build decent modern schools, teach the students high tech stuff and do it this way and it will work:

A. Provide a general recommendation of OBJECTIVES that are in the national interests as well as local community interest.

Have the Federal Government monitor only the results for each state. Let the people see via, for instance, internet, how each states approach is doing compared with the other states.

Provide recommendations and suggestions. Make them public. But leave each State the responsibility of implimentation and allocation of funds. Return to the states their people's money. It is not the Federal Government's money. I propose no revenue sharing. That was never the intentions of the Framers of our Constitution.

Without so much of the people's money going to feed wars and the Military Industrial Complex machines - YOU Joseph Biden can be the one to MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN for all people. And don't forget the immigrants who really want a share of what is The American Dream.

I saw your advertisement night before last on The Duran, internet commentary, run by the two Greek Twins, Alex and Alex

Hey Man, I was really shocked. You looked good, I mean physically and cognitively. But bad-mouthing Donald Trump is NOT going to get you re-elected. And him bad-mouthing YOU is not going to get him anywhere.

THE PEOPLE ARE TIRED OF ALL THIS DISCENSION, AND BICKERING, AND BACK-STABNING - And whoever does win - is going to have Phyrric victory - not worth having - because you are going to try and lead a country which will be in suicide mode, or at best continuing to function in a masochistic self-imposed destructive behavior with not much left worth governing.

2024_May_28 5am Chicago time. I am going to have to quit for now. Much more follup later. I will post this as Rev 0 via a link down in the Trump section below Joe Biden, panel on the right side, as viewed by the patient.

Return to U.S. participation in WWI
Did we declare war upon Russia
when we took a hand in the game
I know that we hopped onto Prussia
And Austria got the same.
But still I have no recollection
Of breaking with Russia, I swear
And cannot help making objection,
To having our boys over there
What quarrel have we with that nation?
Just how did it tread on our toes?

— “What About Bringing Them Home,” poem by Michigander George Smith, 1919.[1]

“Why are you fighting us American? We are all brothers. We are all working men. You American boys are shedding your blood away up here in Russia and I ask you for what reason? My friends, and comrades, you should be back home for the war with Germany is over and you have no war with us. The co-workers of the world are uniting against capitalism why are you being kept here, can you answer that question? No. We don’t want to fight you. But we do want to fight the capitalists and your officers are capitalists.”

— Bolshevik orator in forests near Kadish in northern Russia, January 1919, site of a major battle.[2]

“The Time You Sent Troops to Quell the Revolution”

The United States invasion of Russia remains a hidden dimension of U.S. policy in the Great War, marking the beginning of a long Cold War. In August 1918, three months prior to the Armistice, the Wilson administration sent several platoons of U.S. soldiers into Russia to aid in the overthrow of the new Bolshevik government, which had come to power in the October Revolution of 1917. The operation was carried out alongside British, French, Canadian and Japanese forces in support of White Army counter-revolutionaries whose generals were implicated in wide-scale atrocities, including pogroms against Jews. This “Midnight War” was carried out illegally, without the consent of Congress. The Commanding General in Siberia, William S. Graves thought that his mission was to protect a delegation of Czech troops and the Trans-Siberian railway and to serve as a mediator. He was disappointed to learn that in fact the United States was enmeshed in another country’s civil war and came to oppose the whole operation. In his memoirs, he expressed “doubt if history will record in the past century a more flagrant case of flouting the well-known and approved practice in states in their international relations, and using instead of the accepted principles of international law, the principle of might makes right.”[3]
